

Florence (Firenze), Italy Marathon 2010 – projected race date Sunday, November 28, 2010

SBR Coaching invites you to spend your November, 2010 holiday with us in Florence, Italy to experience the 27th Annual Marathon. Enjoy the architecture, culture, history, wine, food and scenery of the Florence area!

SBR is creating a group package to visit and race in Italy. SBR has reserved a 10 bedroom villa to sleep up to 20 (combination of twin and queen beds). When you confirm a spot, you can request a single bed, or to share a bed. The villa is reserved for 10 days—Thursday, November 25, 2010 through Saturday, December 4, 2010.

The cost per person to stay at the reserved villa is $480 for 10 days. If you are interested in staying with the SBR travel group, a $100 non-refundable deposit is required to reserve your spot.

Here is the website for the villa:

For flights, we are not able to book flights more than a year out. Once we hit that mark, we will begin discussion about flights and goal to organize the group arriving together. Flights currently for that weekend are around $800 (for 2009, just for a baseline).

SBR will be reserving a few vehicles as well, once the dates come closer. This will be an additional small cost to each person.

The goal is to provide the entire 10 day trip for under $1500 per person.

You will be responsible for registering for the race once it opens this winter.

If you have any questions, please contact Jessica at jessica@sbrcoaching.com.
